OUR CHAUTAUOUA.

Cloverport's to have a chautauqua again this summer. The guarantors, many of whom are the same ones as last year, are to be commended for bringing the chautauqua to us this summer after the financial loss they suffered last year, Few people realize the time, the work and the money that is involved in hringing a chantauqua to a community, therefore we are gratified with the citizens of Cloverport who are unselfish in affording the men women and children of our town and community this pleasure.

The chautanqua last summer proved to be four days of real pleasure "Now I have lost my inheritance." and recreation for everyone. It was a happy diversion from the daily grind of the said to himself, "my heart is business and of household work, and it brought us in touch with friends cracked." whom we hadn't seen in months. Upon the whole the program was good, and there were only a few who! failed to find any pleasure in it at all. At any rate, the chautauqua circuits that come to us provide far more elevating, cleaner and more wholesome entertainment than one can find on the show hoats, even tho they may no; be the highest priced entertainers. Since this is the only chautauqua that will be in Breckinridge county this symmer, so far as we know, we hope to see our friends from all over the county attend it. If you have relatives living in Cloverport write them now that you are coming to visit them July 20th to 24th. And if they are made up of the stuff that all true Kentuckians are, and of course they are if they abide here, they'll write you to "Come on". Nearly every Breckin-ridge county farmer has a "flivver." and those who haven't are still clinging to old dohbin, and this will be an opportunity for you to have a vacation aswell as giving one to the faithful wife and to the little ones, even if it is for only an afternoon and evening. It is only four weeks off, but that's time enough to make your plans to he with us for a season of pleasure.

SEEING THROUGH THEIR OWN GLASSES.

It is thoroughly interesting as well as a bit amusing to notice the comments of the daily press upon the election of Senator Harding, the Republican nominee for President.

The New York Sun and Herald sees through Republican eyes and said: "In the nomination of Warren G. Harding the Republican party has done the wisest thing it could have done. In personal appearance Senator Harding is a superb type of the American man."

Upon the other hand, the NewYork World, a thoroughly Democratic paper, had this to say: "Senator Harding was nominated because the Old Guard Republicans want a President to whom they can give orders—a President who will take orders. Accordingly they present their pupper candidate in the person of Warren G. Harding, of Ohio.

Senator Harding is the perfect flower of Old Guard politics. He is an Ohio country politician with the mind of an Ohio country politician. and he sees the world through eyes of an Ohio country politician. Being weak colorless and mediocre, he appealed powerfully to the managing politician who control the Republican organization, most of whom are Senators themselves. They know Harding, and they know that he will he a faithful agent of the organization. They have worked with him, and they can prove that he never had an original idea or entertained a thought that was outside the routine of a well-trained and well disciplined party servant."

Jos Mulhatton, Jr., of Carter's Landing, has a good deal to say this week about the bad roads leading from Cloverport out to his home and on to Addison and Stephensport. We understand that the citizens of Stephensport. Addison and Holt are anxious and willing to meet the citizens of Cloverport in the expense of making this road up the river passable the year round It would certainly be to the advantage of our merchants to open up this means of bringing trade to Cloverport, and unless we do get busy and help build these inter-county roads we are going to wake up some fine morning and find some other place getting the trade that rightfully belongs to us. Keep after us Joe, until we come over and help you out

We often read in the newspapers where someone has robbed a child's bank, stolen the savings of a blind person, or taken undue advantage of some one of lesser will-power. Such people are often referred to as "The

The Meanest Man, in our estimation, is the one who takes advantage of a person in unfortunate circumstances by buying that person's War Savings Stamps at a discount.

If you find yourself in dire need of money you can cash in your Stamps at your post office by applying to the postmaster ten days in advance.

One of the joys of automobiling is to drive through a town and observe the homes where the lawns are kept trimmed, the weeds never allowed to grow in the pavements or in the gutters, and flowers and shruhs adorn the place. Every home can be made attractive if we spend a little time and energy on it, and it certainly helps to improve the looks of a town.

Plans are already on foot to restore a log cabin in Morrow county Ohio, the birth place of Senator Harding. Is Ohio counting on having an Abe Lincoln?

The doubt, given this, everything will adjust itself and work out to the best interests of all, but in the meantime for the love of Mike, we pray, that a Moses be sent to guide us —D. & W. Chats.

We are patiently waiting for the Census Bureau to give us the population of Cloverport.

Won't you be glad when we get our new concrete bridge?

And now all eyes are on San Francisco.

THE DWARF AND THE GIANT BOY. * By Carolyn Sherwin Bailey.

* THE OLD TIN BUCKET *

* * * * * * *

No more do we see the familiar old tin bucket-mayhaps, bent, dented and scarred, wending its way to the corner in the hands of an overallclad worker to be deposited on the counter at Mike's, accompanied by the demand "A dime's worth o'suds."

It was only a few years ago that Friend Jim remarked one day, "Take this heer from him and you will have a changed laboring man, one who will prove a most complex problem. The laboring man now washes away fatigne, dissatisfaction and sorrow in a can of suds. It is his liquid solace, without it he will become restless. dissatisfied and unmanageable. LUŞITANIA DEATH VOIDS INSURANCE.

The estate of Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who lost his life in the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine on May 7, 1915, cannot collect a $100,000 accident insurance policy which he had with the Travelers Insurance Company. Justice McAvoy decided last week that the policy excepted risks such as that which caused the Lusitania disaster.

The policy, taken cut in 1903, contained a clause providing that the insurance did not cover death "resulting directly or indirectly, wholly or in part, from war or riot."

Justice McAvov pointed out that the Lusitania was a merchantman, not in war service at the time of the torpedoing, but held that the loss of the boat was due directly or indirectly to war.—N. Y. Sun and Herald.

Gained Ten Pounds And Is Full Of Life And Energy Since Taking Tanlac.

"It was only three weeks ago that began taking Tanlac and already I have gained ten pounds and am now doing my housework for the first time in over a year," said Mrs. Florence Krause, 419 South Shelby St., Louisville, Ky., in conversation with a Tanlac representative recently.

"I had been a sufferer from stomach trouble for several years and last year I got so had off I had to have an operation and it left me in a worse condition than ever. My nerves were so badly unstrung that any sudden noise would make me scream out and became almost hysterical. My stomach was upset, my appetite, was the poorest it had ever heen and I could not retain the little 1 did eat. I suffered terribly from nausea and had smothering spells so bad they would have to loosen my clothes and I would just have to gasp to keep breathing. My sleep was always restless and I had Also Common Sense Stock awful spells of neuralgia in my head.

> "One of my neighbors told me about Tanlac and I always will be thankful I took her advice and started taking it. Tanlac is the grandest medicine on earth, for I have taken only three hottles and already I am feeling better and stronger than I, have in many years. I can hardly eat enough to satisfy my appetite, nothing ever hurts me and I am no longer bothered with those smothering spells. I have not had a sign of neuralgia since hegan taking Tanlac and my nerves are just as steady and strong as ever in my life. My sleep is sound and refreshing and life is now worth living. Tanlac has given me health strength and happiness, and I am glad to tell others in the hopes that they too may be benefited by this wonder-

SUGGESTIONS TO GET RID OF HESSIAN FLY

One of Oldest And Most Destruc-ctive Enemies to Wheat Crop Is Here.

The Hessian fly, one of the oldest and at times one of the most destructive enemies of the wheat crop in the United States, is again on the increase. Specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture make the following suggestions for combating the pest:

Practice crop rotation Do not sow wheat on stubble if it is possible to woid doing so. Plow under all infested stubble and ruined wheat, where practicable, soon after harvest Destroy all volunteer wheat by harrowing, disking, plowing, or some other method. Plow all land to be sown to wheat as early and deeply as existing conditions permit, and prepare a thoroughly pulverized and compacted seed bed. Conserve moisture against a period of drought at seeding time. Use good seed. Fertilize. Sow wheat during the fly-free period, as advised by your farm advisor or State experiment station.

Adhere to these practices every year, whether the fly is abundant or scarce. They will help to keep it

APAN DEVELOPING NEW CLOTH FIBRE.

Unless commercial difficulties arise t appears that a certain kelp, or sea grass furnishes an ideal fibre for mixing with cotton to produce nearly every kind of cloth now used in such tremendous quantities in the Far

The grass grows in great quanti-ties along the rocky shores of Japan, and runs from narrow strips to three feet in width and is often found in sixteen foot lengths. The most plentiful supply is found in from twenty five to thirty feet of water at low tide. The kelp is now being used by a process upon which a patent was granted

Cloth produced from the new fibre mixed with cotton has a pleasing gloss and takes dye better than pure cotton. Threads made of the combination are much stronger than pure cotton threads and far more durable, as has been proved by making some of it into fish nets which have lasted a surprisingly long time. Experiments have proved that "this combination produces splendid material for summer clothes and shirtings, especially imitation pongee. The fibre also produces a splendid paper.

STATES RECEIVING AID,

On the average the States have submitted project statements for nearly 95 per cent of their respective allotments and have entered into agreement to construct highways which call for about one-half of their Federal-aid money. The projects actually completed and paid for are comparatively few, but they are materially exceeded in number by those which are practically completed. California, Delaware, Illinois, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregou, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Utah, Washington, West Virginia, and Wyoming have statements for all or nearly all of each submitted approved project submitted their allotments.

FARM WASTES THAT ARE BEING UTILIZED.

Something like one-third of the total production of grain straw in the United States is not being used to advantage, and of this amount one-half is an absolute loss. Of the 245,-000,000 tons of corn stover produced annually in the United States it is estimated that only 81.5 per cent is fed to stock, and that at least 35 per cent of this amount is lost through wasteful methods of feeding. Similarly, during the past years large quantities of cottonseed meal have, been used for direct fertilizing purposes, which could be used to better advantage for feeding cattle, since not over 25 per cent of its fertilizing value is lost when it is so used.

There are so many kinds of separate skirts that a little book might be written about them. But the practical skirt of wool, for dally wear, which was the forerunner of all the others, is the most important. It is made of indistinct plaids, cross bars and stripes this season, in which soft dark colors are beautifully combined. The skirts are usually laid in wide or narrow box plaits according to the size of the pinid or width of the stripe. As the season advances wool skirts will be replaced by others of cotton for utility wear. These are shown now in plain white and in white striped or figured with a color. Penrl buttons sparingly used remain the favorite finish.

Hongkong-Despite the fact that Hongkong takes American leaf tobacco to the value of almost $2,000,000 per annum and imports Philippine leaf tobacco to the value of $300,000 more, the export of tobacco and to-bacco products from the port is nearly twice its imports. It is difficult to secure reliable figures as to all assects of the trade, for the official import returns of Hongkong do not include imports from South China ports whence most of the Chinese leaf and prepared tobacco come.

There is also some difference as to the classification of "raw" and "prepared" tobacco in the Chinese and riongkong returns. The Chinese custoins returns show exports of tobacco leaf and stock from China to Hongkong in 19t8 to the value of $881,864 and of "prepared" tobacco to the value of $2,034,396. About five-sixths of these imports come from ports in China whose exports so far have not been included in Hongkong import returns, thus leaving something like $2,500,000 worth of tobacco from South China to be added to the port's imports as shown by Hongkong sta-

Fewer Than Last Year. Calves Are 22 Per Cent Less.

A falling off in the numbers of cat-tle and hogs in the United States occurred during the first four months of this year, as compared with the like period last year, according to reports of special livestock reporters of the Bureau of Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agri-

In the case of hogs the births during January, February, March and April were about 10 per cent fewer than in the same months last year. The marketings have fallen off about 15 per cent; the farm slaughter was about the same in both seasons; but the deaths on farms this year are over 40 per cent heavier than last year to May 1. Taking into consideration both the births and the deaths (from all causes), it appears that there has been a relative reduction of about 5 per cent during the first four months of this year as compared with the trend during the first four months of last year.

The birth of calves from January t, to May 1, were about 22 per cent fewer this year than last year. The net disposition of cattle by marketings farm slaughter, and deaths was about 9 per cent greater than last rar; it appears that there has been a relative reduction of about 6 per cent in total number of cattle as compared with last year during the four months January 1, to May, 1.

COOPERATION BETWWEN MAN AND MACHINE ON THE FARM.

Specialists in farm management during the past year have been making investigations for the Department of Agriculture in the saving in labor that may be made by the use of modern farm machinery. Its was the first comprehensive study of the subject and its purpose was to show from field tests how the greatest practical results may be obtained from the minimum of labor.

The report of these specialists was recently published by the Department. It shows that one man does 80 per cent, more work with a 28-inch horse drawn plough than with a single bottom plough, that a portable elevator reduces the time of unloading grain about 75 per cent, that a hay loader reduces the time of loading 25 per cent, and that the corn binder increases the result of man labor 50 by hand.

The saving in man power is still greater when a tractor is used "A ables one man to accomplish from 60 to 70 per cent, more than does the ON THE DECREASE to to for per cent, more than does the two bottom plough drawn by six horses." Comparing the present results of a man's work with those of the past the Department says that "a farmer has been enabled to produce Hog Births Are 10 Per Cent 57 bushels of potatoes with one average hour's labor where 30 years ago he produced only a third of that a-mount," and that where today a man produces 127 pounds of cotton a day as an average of the season's work, a half century ago he produced only 45 pounds. The chief interest in these figures just at present lies in the relation which they bear to the shortage of farm labor. From them the farmer can get what consolation he may as he reads the survey of the situation just issued by the Department. According to this survey the available supply of farm labor is 72 per cent. normal; in other words the situation "is more acute now than it was at the immediate close of the war when the drafted farm boys were still in

The complaint of the farmers, especially in the middle West, where the · largest manufactories of farming machinery are situated, has been that these establishments take all of his laborers from him. He has not been inclined to consider the returns these laborers make him as producers of labor saving machinery. He declares today that though he has improved working conditions and is offering an increase of from 15 to 25 per cent. in wages he cannot compete with the cities in obtaining help.

There is no doubt considerable truth in this and he is not likely to be appeased by the showing made by the Agricultural Department of the of labor on the farm in either year
